County Commission Votes To Buy Land Behind Courthouse

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, February 8, at the courthouse in Elba, and took some concrete action toward building a new jail in Enterprise.

Monday's meeting began at 10:00 a.m., and the first visitor was Mr. Renis Jones, president of the architectural firm of Pearson, Humphries, Jones and Associates, of Montgomery. County Attorney Warren Rowe told the commissioners he had looked at the contract to employ the firm as architects, and stated it was fair and ready to sign.

"I would like to hire a consultant to work with us on preliminary plans," Mr. Jones said. "and I think it would be to your best interests. He would provide us with statistical data on all the aspects of the jail, and this could help us do the best job possible to the people of Coffee County. The cost of the program consultant would be $15,000, of which my firm would pay $5,000 and the county pay $10,000."

"I think the Commission would be well ahead to get all the facts, and the money would be well spent to get the consultant," added Warren Rowe. "He could give you information and data not known at this date."

Despite the county attorney's recommendation, the Commission voiced opposition to the added expense of the consultant, and told Mr. Jones it (the Commission) would give him the information he would need.

The Commission told the architect to: (1) inspect both courthouses and check the cost estimates for the complete renovation of the two existing structures; (2) study the cost factor of adding four cells to the present Enterprise courthouse following renovation; (3) inspect the jail in Elba and if renovation is not economically feasible, give an estimate of the cost of building a new 40-man jail in Elba; (4) check the possibility of adding on to the Elba jail to make it meet all state and federal standards; (5) report the cost of building a 40-man jail behind the courthouse in Enterprise (or at another site), and (6) determine the cost factor of building a new courthouse in Enterprise, with four jail cells, at the current site and at another site.

Jones told the Commission he would have a team of inspectors at both the courthouses and the jail immediately, and assured them he would complete preliminary work within the time limit stated in the court order concerning the jail.

The Commission then voted unanimously to accept the contract to employ the architects, along with the firm of Dean, Dale and Dean, of Jackson, Mississippi, as associates in the project.

Following the signing of the contract, the Commission agreed to discuss renovations and inspect the facilities with representatives of the firm on Monday, February 16.

Commissioner Charlie Mack Martin asked that the minutes of the previous meeting be read concerning buying land behind the courthouse in Enterprise. The minutes were read, which stated the Commission voted to purchase an option from the City of Enterprise for $2000.

"I believe the motion voted on was to purchase both the option and the land behind the courthouse," said Martin. "Was it not recorded in the minutes as such?"

When the Commission clerk stated no mention of purchasing the land was included in the minutes, Martin made a motion to pay for the land behind the courthouse for $39,000. Probate Judge James L. Sawyer remarked, "It looks foolish to me to borrow money and pay interest on it when we don't have to!" The Commission disagreed with the judge, however, and voted 4-2 to purchase the land. Voting in favor of the purchase were Commissioners Martin, Boutwell, Grant and Eagerton, while voting with the judge were Commissioners Bowden and Bradley.

Commissioner Rex Boutwell made a motion to amend the county's budget to include the $39,000 purchase and the $2000 to purchase the option on the property. The motion passed by a vote of 4-2, with the split being the same as before.

Attorney Warren Rowe asked when he could pick up the check and draw up a deed on the property, and Commissioner Martin answered, "Today," however, Judge Sawyer remarked in a sharp tone that "I will write it when I have time - I can't stop the meeting to go write a check!"

Sheriff Brice Paul addressed Monday's meeting and asked that the county keep Felony Officer Dennis Hobbs on the payroll for at least two more months. Paul reported the previous commission had agreed to extend his employment until February 1, but that another extension was needed.

"We have in an application for an $8,431 grant from L.E.P.A.," stated Paul, "and the county's matching share has already been used to carry the program. If we get the grant we can continue the program until October 1, and it won't cost the county another dime. I would like the Commission to pick up his salary for two more months until the L.E.P.A. grant can be approved or denied. If it isn't approved, it will give Hobbs a chance to find a new position, and at the same time he can clear up existing cases. The total cost to carry the program until April 1 would be between $1500-$2000."

Commissioner Boutwell stated,

Architect Renis Jones (background) speaks to Commission about construction plans, as Commissioners

Gilmer Grant and Charlie Mack Martin study contract.

"We all realize that times are hard, but it's possible the new president will cut back a lot of existing programs. I think we need to look at the sheriff's budget and discuss the matter in detail."

Commissioner Martin made a motion to continue Hobbs' position through April 1, and the motion passed by a vote of 4-2. Voting against the motion were returning Commissioners Boutwell and Grant, while the four new commissioners all voted in favor of the request.

Mr. Buck Tindol, manager of the County Landfill, addressed the Commission during the afternoon session and presented a detailed study on the cost of operating the landfill and county garbage pickup service. The study revealed the county suffered a loss of $60,131.57 last year in operating the two departments, and also stated the county had to employ an additional man at a cost of $9,595.56 to open the landfill each morning to allow the Enterprise garbage trucks to dump early. A breakdown on garbage collections showed that Brantley dumps 3.2% of garbage taken at the dump, and pays 2.2% of the total cost, while the other users of the dump result in the following breakdown: New Brockton dumps 7%, pays 3.4%; Elba dumps 17.1%, pays 10.9%; Enterprise dumps 57.2%, pays 23.2%; and the county dumps 16% of the garbage at the dump while paying for 60.2% of its operational expenses.

The Commission told Mr. Tindol it would study the report and meet him at the landfill on Monday, February 16, to discuss how to better finance the operation.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the Commission:

heard a representative of a local investment banking company offer to help the county acquire funds to build a new jail;

received a letter from the State Highway Department that commended members of the county engineer's office for their effort in bringing the county's bridge inventory up to date;

received a letter from Pensions & Security Director Ron Smith thanking the Commission for the use of a room in the Farm Center for a program now discontinued;

received a letter from an investment banking company offering to loan the county funds;

examined a report from the Revenue Department on the tax appraisal update;

appointed Commissioner Billy Eagerton to replace Don Smith on the Regional Planning & Development Commission;

appointed Commissioner Rex Boutwell to replace Bennie Beckham on the State Soil & Water Conservation Board;

agreed to the county engineer's request to delay buying a crane and dragline until Feb. 23;

agreed to open bids on a new and used tractor at 10:00 a.m. on February 23 (for the Highway Dept.);

approved a motion to pay the new Revenue Commissioner an annual salary of $25,000 (the Commission will replace both the tax assessor and tax collector on October 1, and the salary will provide a savings of $11,000 from the combined salaries now paid to the two officials);

asked Commissioner Martin to check with a local roofer to get a leak fixed in the county engineer's office; and paid bills.

In one final action, the Commission voted unanimously to eliminate the reserved parking places at the parking lot behind the Enterprise courthouse. The Commission agreed to keep two spaces reserved for the use of the handicapped, and one space for the sheriff.

Two commissioners reported they had been contacted by citizens objecting to the large number of reserved parking spaces, and that prompted the action. The next regular meeting will be on Monday, February 23, in Elba.

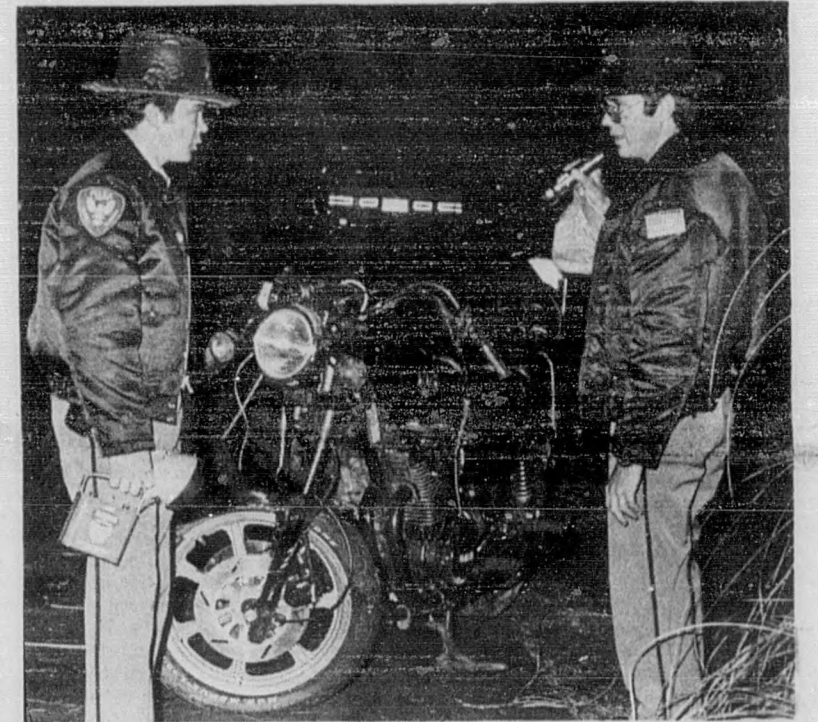

Several Roads In County Remain Closed

The heavy rains that drenched all areas of South Alabama on Tuesday, February 10, took their toll on roads throughout Coffee County, and County Engineer Bill McClain has reported it could take as long as several months for his crews to finish repairs on all the damage done.

Coffee County has 301 miles of dirt roads, and while all are in bad shape, the engineer reported the most damage appeared to be in the northwest part of the county. The dirt roads which are closed are either still under water, or washed in two by flash flooding.

"We checked all the roads in the county last night," said McClain during a Wednesday morning interview. "and we're still trying to check out the roads that were underwater. If the weather holds, we should have all the roads passable in 7 - 14 days, but it will take several months to get the ditches cleaned out."

McClain reported that at 10:00 a.m. on Wednesday, February 11, two paved roads were still closed and approximately 20 miles of dirt roads were impassable. The paved roads closed were: County Road 58, where it

Motorcycle Wrecks During Chase

Elba policemen Freddy Hanchey, left, and Gary Brown are shown examining a late model motorcycle that wrecked in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Vaughan on Taylor Mill Road Saturday night.

The officers said the bike left the road at a high rate of speed. They also reported that both the operator, Billy Farris, and his passenger, Donna Waddall, were taken to the local hospital for treatment and released.

Police department records indicate Farris was charged with attempting to elude police officers and reckless driving. Miss Waddall was charged with possession of drugs.

Elba firemen responded to a fire call last Thursday afternoon at the home of Tommy Burke on Taylor Mill Road in Mulberry Heights. The house suffered extensive damage.

Water & Electric Board Meets

The Elba Water and Electric Board met briefly Tuesday at 5 p.m. in the regularly scheduled monthly meeting. All board members were present.

The only business was to review the financial status and pay monthly bills. Chairman Charles Hayes reviewed the accounts receivable and pointed out that there was only $406.70 in unpaid utility bills, and $355.68 in bad checks. He shared the opinion of other board members that Cleo Hawkins and his staff were doing a great job of collecting. City Clerk Jack Prescott reported good success with using the small claims court to collect some old unpaid bills and bad checks.

Monthly bills totaled $4236.10 and were approved.

School Board To Invest Funds

The Elba School Board met Thursday at 5 p.m. with all members except Paul King present and voting. Routine monthly bill payments and a report on the school's financial condition led the discussion. Following this a short report on the operations of the school lunchrooms was given by High School Principal Lamar Foley. He told board members just how the lunchrooms operated, federal and state funds available, and touched on some of the minimum requirements to qualify for federal funds. The board approved a request by Superintendent Taylor and Foley that the schools be allowed to invest some funds in high yielding 6-month certificates of deposit. Foley noted that the high school general fund had a balance of $47,000, and rarely fell below $25,000.

A proposal to convert one of the school buses to propane gas was tabled for further study and until funds for the conversion could be obtained.

Drug Case Settled Out Of Court

An out-of-court settlement was reached Monday afternoon in the once-tried-and-mistried $42 million lawsuit filed by Attorney Gareth Lindsey on behalf of four children and a woman, all of Covington County. The case was set for retrial this week in Elba.

The suit charged an Opp druggist put poison in drugs, another druggist dispensed the drugs and the victims used the drugs. The details of the settlement were not released by the parties nor their lawyers.

Brainstorms

With Ferrie Cox

Southeast Alabama was covered with heavy rains Tuesday and Tuesday night. Reportedly the official rainfall in Elba was 5.62 inches; but north of Elba rain gauges registering 8 inches were not uncommon. We were lucky not to get the storms that hit other Alabama areas, but this water is enough for Coffee County folks. We understand that Pea River reached its crest at Noon Wednesday, so no flooding problems are expected within the county.

Twice this week we editor was treated to free meals with no strings attached. First, the local fire department rolled out the carpet with some fine grilled steaks. This was enjoyed at their newly-expanded quarters in the old public library. These men put a part of each month's pay into an eating fund and occasionally invite visitors. This week the local press was invited, as was the mayor and city council. The steaks were perfect, but Councilman David Stokes took some of the excitement out of the event when he loudly commented that he thought the invitation was a real honor until he looked around and saw the press was invited also! It took eye editor about six and a half seconds to get over that insult and take another bite of my big ole steak.

Sheriff Brice Paul wasn't about to be outdone, and at Noon Monday he invited the press and a dozen or so "others" to eat catfish at the county jail. To prevent several of us who don't like the sound of jail doors clanging shut, from getting flustered stomachs, Brice set up some tables outside in the yard, and we ate until we were full and then more beer and brie. The local jail has a great cook, and looking over the menu, the inmates are getting as good meals as they ever gotten... anywhere. We salute them for their efforts.

The courts of Coffee County have been in the news a good bit recently, and civil judgments in damage suits have led the discussions. Last week we published a letter to the Editor from a former Elba resident, Murray Johns, who is a regular reader of this newspaper. He expressed a concern that has resulted in a large number of our other readers calling, stopping us on the street or discussing the matter in round-table discussions. All but one of the comments have been strongly in agreement with Mr. Johns. Those who missed the letter might want to look it up again if the newspaper is sticking around the magazine rack or the bottom of the bird cage. Oh - one opposing Johns' comments thought he should hear the details in each particular case before forming his opinions.

It is hard to determine the reason, but we have been flooded lately with invitations to subscribe to investment letters of every kind. We don't know if it is because the economy is so bad that these things pop out of the woodwork, or if we somehow got on a list with some folks who actually do have a lot of money to spend on investments and newsletters. Maybe the truth is that the best investments are in writing newsletters and selling $36 to $500 subscriptions.

Anyone who doesn't believe lightning is dangerous should have seen the George Craft home Tuesday night. The family was home when lightning struck and set the place on fire. The fire damage was not extensive because they were home and the fire department responded quickly. However, the actual explosion when the lightning struck blew up a TV, the window next to it, blew insulation from the attic through joints and all around the eaves of the house where there were burn spots and the electricity had followed the metal trim and arced at each joint.

Home Economics Teacher Member Of CAR

BY: MARY HUSSEY
Mrs. Hilton, who teaches Home Economics and Family Living at Zion Chapel, is helping to organize a CAR Society for this area.

Children of the American Revolution was organized in 1895, and is sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution. Membership is open to any boy or girl under the age of 21 who is directly descended from a man or woman who, with unfailing loyalty, rendered material aid to the cause of American independence, as a soldier, sailor, civil officer or recognized patriot in one of the several colonies or states, provided the applicant is personally acceptable to the society.

The purposes of the organization are to acquire knowledge of American history, to preserve and restore places of historical importance; to honor the men, women and children who rendered service to the cause of the American Revolution; and to love, uphold and extend the principles of American liberty and patriotism.

Anyone interested in joining the organization should see any CAR member.

Get Your Flu Shots Next Year

BY: JUDY HELMS
During the last month the occurrence of flu in some parts of the United States has almost reached epidemic levels.

Zion Chapel, located at Jack, Alabama, has been no exception. Bangkok flu and Singapore flu have been the kinds most prevalent in the U.S. We know of no actual diagnosed cases here at Zion Chapel, but we feel sure these two kinds of flu have occurred here.

The flu lasted for approximately two weeks here at Zion Chapel. A majority of the absentees was out from three to six days. One day during this two weeks there were sixty-two names on the absentee report. Another two days during the period, there were absentees in the fifties.

The flu syndrome here was an aching body, back and chest inflammation, and some cold symptoms. All these included complete bed rest and medication from a doctor.

Band Boosters Meet

BY: DONNA RUGG
The Zion Chapel Band Boosters met Monday night, February 2, 1981. The main topic of discussion was fund-raising projects for new uniforms and new equipment. They discussed asking the WKMX "Dirty Dribblers" to come play the faculty, having a men's softball tournament, and having a horse show to raise the money needed.

The tentative date for Band Day is May 9. There will also be a band concert for the band members' families February 19.

On February 22, the Zion Chapel Rebel Marching Band will be going to Andalusia to compete in a district contest. On March 28, the Coffee County Invitational Band Festival will be held at Zion Chapel.

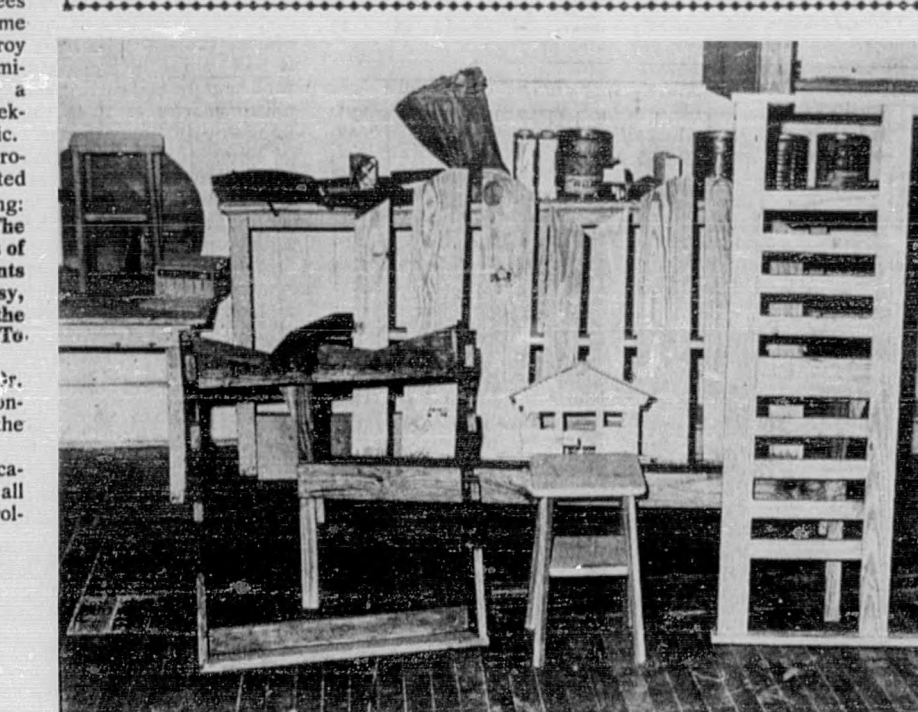

Zion Chapel Vs. New Brockton

On February 3, 1981, Zion Chapel played New Brockton at Zion Chapel. The awesome power of New Brockton prevailed over the Zion Chapel Rebels. Zion Chapel was slain in the first half, but went on to score 46 points with most of those being Walter Adair's, but the Gamecocks outscored the Rebels at the sound of the buzzer, 89 to 46.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Woodworking Projects Underway

BY: RICKY NICKOLSON
Vocational Agriculture classes at Zion Chapel, under the direction and supervision of Harold Stewart, are busy with woodworking projects. Household products such as gun racks, stools, magazine racks and telephone caddies have been drawn up, built and finished. Items to be used outside the home include lawn chairs, swings, bird houses and livestock feeders.

Thanks to the addition of a router, an even greater assortment of projects has arisen. Students have created name plates and engraved plaques. Some of these have been made as presents to be given to a favorite person OR teacher.

After this hard work the students are ready for the big job of weaving. They are using a reed type of grass to weave the seats for the stools.

Weaving seats is an almost-lost art that dates back to Colonial times. Most of the people of the Colonial period of American History wove the seats for chairs. Today it is used primarily as a hobby, but it is also used in some cases as a type of therapy.

Mrs. Hilton hopes that by teaching her students this art they will appreciate and understand its usefulness. She also hopes it will be the beginning of widespread interest in a new and different skill.

The Zion Chapel Rebels played the Dozier Tigers on January 30, 1981, at Dozier. This was perhaps the closest game Zion Chapel has played this season.

The game started out slow but then picked up for both teams, as the Tigers won 57-51. Even though the Rebels were defeated, it was the best game for all-around performance they have had all year.

Sophomores Create Biology Projects

BY: SANDRA MOBLEY
The sophomores have been busy lately making biology projects for Coach Lindsey. These projects were the major assignment for January, and were due February 2.

Because all the textbook has not been covered by the classes, the projects could pertain to anything in their biology book. Many interesting projects have been made including protozoans, ear diagrams, hydrogen isotopes, cross section of a leaf, and posters of many things, such as the human digestive system.

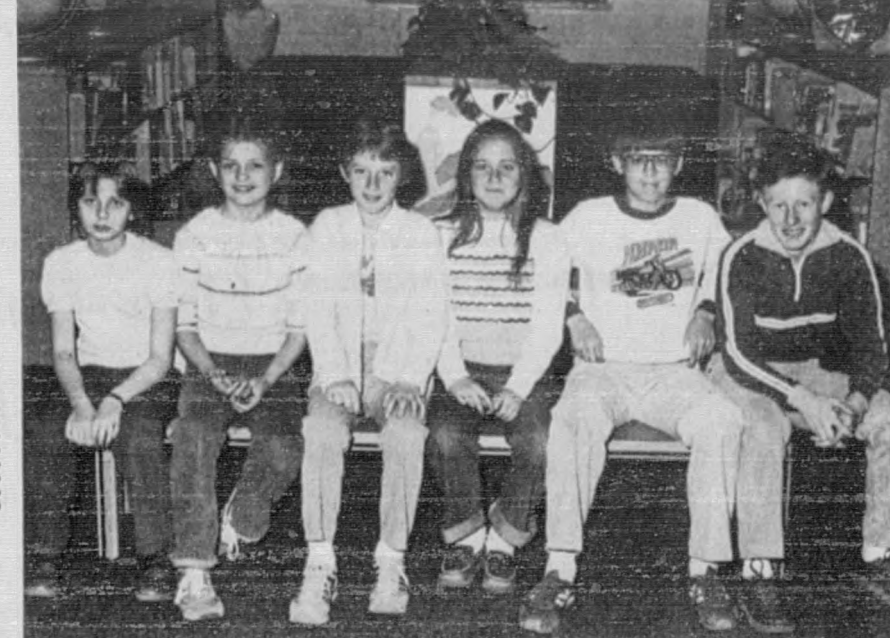

A very interesting project was made by Tim Brown, it included many types of tree bark, leaves and even some of the fruit produced by the trees.

Coach Lindsey graded the projects on originality and the amount of time spent in making them, as well as the content of the project.

Seventh Grade Elects Class Who's Who
BY: LISA TAYLOR
In our newspaper we have previously reported that the seventh grade was preparing what they called their "time capsule." They have filled a box with memorabilia that will be sealed until 1986 when they are seniors.

To include with their other memories, they have elected a "Who's Who" from their class. Chosen most intelligent and Most Likely to Succeed were Jimbo Bryan and Teresa Holcomb. Vince Arnold and Krista Dyess were elected Cutest, Chosen Most Athletic and Friendliest were Teresa Holcomb and Richie Rugg. Thought to be the Most Talented were Krista Dyess, Don McWaters and Teresa Holcomb.

Voted Most Dependable in Who's Who were MARY JO HUSSEY, MARK SANDERS and ROBBIN DAY

Lost & Found Again

Mrs. Hilton's basic home economics class is working hard on a most unusual project for their class. They are canning stools! The stools were made by Mr. Hilton, Mrs. Hilton's husband. They were sanded and stained by the students.

After this hard work the students are ready for the big job of weaving. They are using a reed type of grass to weave the seats for the stools.

THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Malusz Sports Editor

Coach Jerry Kirkland's Elba Tigers split two games last week and now need only one more win to assure themselves of a winning season. The Tigers had to play both games without the services of Frederick "Rebate" Reed, the team's top scorer, who was in the hospital recovering from injuries sustained in an auto crash. Reed is now out of the hospital, but it's unlikely he will be able to play for the rest of the season.

On Friday night Elba played arch-rival Zion Chapel, and did so without the services of Reed and Ted Horstead (due to personal reasons). Despite the obvious handicap, the Tigers went out and pulled out an exciting win. Don Horstead led the short-handed team with a game-high 31 points, and his leadership on the court was the deciding factor in the win. Don's not the best basketball player in the state, but he is without a doubt the top all-around athlete to pass through Elba High in many years. His winning attitude and "give it all you've got" spirit has led Elba's athletic program to the top, and I'm sure all our coaches will tell you he is quite a young man!

Another bright spot in Elba's win over Zion Chapel was the play of Stanley Barnes, a B-teamer forced to start by the absence of Ted Horstead. Barnes, a sophomore, scored 18 points to help lead the offense, and did a good job on defense with several steals. With the help of Barnes and our other young players, next season should be even better than this one!

Over at New Brockton they've got a trio of players who recently went over the coveted "1,000-point" mark in career scoring: Ricky Nelson, a 6-0 guard, has 1,261 points; Robert Wilson, a 6-2 forward, has 1,228 points, and Fred Thomas, a 6-8 center, has 1,013 points and 1,180 rebounds. The talented trio are all being courted by numerous colleges and should continue their careers after high school graduation.

The Gamecocks' Coach Charles Cole, a former standout at Mulberry Heights and Alabama State, is also nearing a milestone in his career. Cole has 293 wins during a stellar career, and hopes to get 400 this season. To get 300 wins, Cole's team would have to win at least one more regular season game and then sweep six straight and win the state championship. A sizeable task, but not an impossible one. Good luck!

I was named to the Elba Recreation Board last week, and though I do consider the appointment an honor, I'm not really sure just what we're supposed to do. A letter from the mayor stated the board would direct, advise and promote recreation in the city - whatever that means! I don't know what power we will have, but I pledge to be the voice of the people who participate in the recreation program. If any of you feel something needs improving, or that something is wrong, just tell me and we'll look into it. I promise!

Here at Elba we've never had to worry about having a 6-11 center in basketball, but if we had one, I bet our coaches could keep him healthy. What am I talking about? At Arab High School they have a 6-11 star named Mark Farmer, who is one of the top college prospects in the state. This year he has played in only four games due to a broken foot sustained while participating in a "Soul Train Drill," which involves running outside the court. I know accidents will happen, but that sounds a little crazy.

The high school basketball season comes to an end this week, and then it will be "tournament time" across the state. This week's Elba Clipper will be the list of the season, so our top picks should be considered favorites to battle for berths in the state tourney. Here goes . . .

Changing the subject - spring football training at Elba High will start on February 18, and at least 50-60 boys are expected to participate. Last season was a pressure-packed season because of lofty predictions, but this year Elba's football program should be back to normal. Gone are Don Horstead and a bevy of seniors, which means the Tigers will be just another team. Coach Wood has said the Spring drills will be devoted to fundamentals, and no big changes will take place. However, I did detect a tone of optimism in his voice, and I've got a feeling Coach Wood and his staff are looking forward to the challenge of rebuilding one of the state's top teams. It should be a very interesting spring.

Coffee Springs' Coach Wayne Purvis got the ax last week, and though I don't know him personally, I do wish him a lot of success in finding a new coaching post. Coach Purvis knew a lot about both football and basketball, and fielded many outstanding teams, but it was his fiery temper that often overshadowed his successes, and probably led to his dismissal. If Purvis can harness his emotions and control his temper, he can prove to everyone he is still a good coach. If not, I'm afraid he may have to find a new means of making a living!

Elba Tigers Fall To Andalusia, Rebound To Blast Zion Chapel 73-60

The Elba Tigers hit the hardwood twice last week and posted one win and one loss, to up their record to 10-7 with only one week left in the regular season. The loss came at the hands of Andalusia, 74-43, on Tuesday night, but the Tigers bounced back on Friday night to post an exciting 72-60 win over Zion Chapel.

Coach Wayne Purvis Fired

At Coffee Springs

Wayne Purvis, the fiery football and basketball coach at Coffee Springs High School, was fired last week by the school's principal, Jerry Glover.

Coach Purvis had a combined record of 49-42, and that he had no choice but to dismiss Purvis from the school after learning the Gamecock guard had played in an independent basketball tournament held last week-end at Zion Chapel. Cole stated that Purvis, his team's "sixth man," played on a church team in the tourney, which is in direct violation of A.H.S.A.A. guidelines.

The rule, listed on Page 58, Rule 1, Section 5, of the state handbook, clearly states "Any member of a high school athletic team who participates in an athletic contest as a member of a similar team the same season shall be ineligible to compete under these rules for the remainder of the season. Note: A sports season starts the day of the first game. A student cannot play with an outside team on or after this date and until the high school season has been completed."

A telephone call to state Associate Director, J.B. McCain, verified the rule interpretation by Cole as correct, and the A.H.S.A.A. official added that had the violation been ignored, both Coach Cole and New Brockton High School would have been liable to fines and suspension!

Coach Cole added he had told several of his players about the rule (including Purvis) after they were approached to participate in the tourney, and that no other players competed in the event.

"It is a regrettable situation," said Cole, "but when I found out what had taken place, I had no choice but to dismiss Purvis from the squad after learning the Gamecock guard had played in an independent basketball tournament held last week-end at Zion Chapel. Cole stated that Purvis, his team's "sixth man," played on a church team in the tourney, which is in direct violation of A.H.S.A.A. guidelines.

New Brockton Gamecocks Up Slate To 17-6, Rout Rebels 89-46

The New Brockton Gamecocks jumped out to an early 10-0 lead and never looked back in coasting to a lopsided 89-46 win over the Zion Chapel Rebels last Tuesday night at Zion Chapel.

Ricky Nelson and Robert Wilson hit 21 points apiece to pace Brockton, while Fred Thomas added 15 points and 15 rebounds. Walter Adair scored 24 to lead the Rebels.

The New Brockton B team held Zion Chapel to only 3 points in the second half and ran away with a 42-25 win. The Rebs actually led 22-16 at the half, but Brockton rallied and posted the victory. PASTOR'S CORNER

REV. DAVID RICHBURG
Whitewater Baptist

Who are God's people, and how many of them are there?

The Bible is very clear in stating that those who belong to God are those who accept Jesus as Lord and Savior, and follow His example.

Romans 10:13 states that "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation."

He is saying that those who believe and receive Jesus will be saved. He also points out that those who are saved will live by the Spirit and example of Jesus.

Romans 8:5 - "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit."

Galatians 5:25 - "If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit." You can always know the children of God by the presence of Jesus in their lives.

The number of Christians throughout history has been identified as a remnant of God. There will never be a time that a majority of the world population will be Christian.

Cain and Abel are examples of division even within a family. When Jesus comes again, He says that one will be taken and one left behind. He also says that the number who are not children of God will be as the grains of sand of the sea.

No, the majority of the world population will never be Christian, but there will always be a remnant.

Ezekiel 6:8 "Yet will I leave a remnant, that ye may have some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries."

I had rather be one of the minority of this world and know that I stand with the Lord's majority. He clearly states, "If God be for us, who can be against us?"
